" PRODESSE CIVIBUS."

Vol. 33. PITTSBURGH, TUESDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 17, 1818. New Series, No. 53.

PUBLISHED (EVERY TUESDAY AND FRIDAY) BY
JOHN I. SCULL & MORGAN NEVILLE,
11 Fourth Street, between Market and Wood Streets.

300 Dollars Reward.

ABSCONDED from our store, on the night of the 22d inst. GEORGE R. ROBERTSON, who was employed by us as a clerk. He is between 24 and 27 years of age, about 5 feet 11 inches high, slender made, thin visage, aqueline nose, fair complexion, hazle eyes, high forehead and prominent cheek bones; his teeth in front considerably decayed; he is an Englishman by birth, said to be born in Liverpool. The said Robertson is well educated, and converses with considerable ease on most subjects. He is very genteel in his manner and person, and was for some time (we have understood) an officer in the British service. He took from our Cash drawer about $520 in current bank notes and gold, with the following notes of hand, and drafts, viz. Prospect K. Robbins' note for $600 85 cents due the 28th November next—ditto ditto for the same amount due the 28th January, 1819. John Campbell's note for $560, due 15th June, 1819 Mr. Pettus's note for $65, given to Thomas Rector, and by him transferred to us. Thomas W. Thruston's note for $30. John Bevins' note for $111, given to Henry L. Mills, and by him transferred to us, due first January 1819. A draft drawn by a Dr. Tealing in our favor on a Mr. Jackson of Baltimore, payable 60 days after date for two hundred dollars.

He is suspected of having taken a Pocket-book belonging to Mr. John Little of this place, which contained the following notes, with sundry other papers not recollected, viz. One note given by — M'Nair to J. Little payable and negociable at the Bank of Missouri, for $502 12 cents. One ditto Joseph M'Coy for $90 payable to T. Hanley—and one ditto L. Lawless for 300 dollars payable to J. Little. These were taken a short time since, and he no doubt will forge a transfer of them as well as of those he has taken from us, & atttempt to pass them, as having been endorsed to him.

The above reward will be given and all reasonable expences paid to any person who will apprehend the said George R. Robertson, an d deliver him to us in St. Lonis, or one hundred dollars to any one apprehending and confining him in prison so that we may be able to bring him to justice and have him punished for the violent outrage he has committed.

HENRY W. CONWAY, & CO.

St. Louis, September 21, 1818.

Twenty Dollars Reward.

RANAWAY from the subscriber, living in Pittsburgh, on the 19th of October last, a Negro boy named JOHN FISHER. He is about 5 feet eight or nine inches high, round shouldered, large lips, a down look and stutters very much if harshly spoken to. He took with him a Brindle Bull Dog, and his cloathing is a blue Coattee, a white Jacket, a pair of velvet Overalls, and a fur Hat. Whoever takes up said runaway and delivers him to the subscriber shall have the above reward: or ten dollars for apprehending and confining him in any jail in the United States, so that his master may get him again. Pittsburgh Gazette.

TUESDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 17, 1818.

We can scarcely refrain from laughing outright, when we find any of our brother editors, (Niles par exemple) bursting into patriotic invective against banks and bankers. On these occasions we generally feel satisfied that some wag has put a trick upon them, such as paying off a subscription with a counterfeit note, or in money that the peculiar and local customs of the place, have scouted from an equality of rights and privileges with other paper. There is certainly no incentive to your real, patent patriotism, equal to self interest.

We should be better pleased with these gentlemen, if, while they are damning the present system in toto, they would condescend to offer something as a substitute. We remember it was made a matter of serious complaint, some time since, on the floor of Congress, that certain members took occasion to oppose every measure that was suggested without offering any thing in their stead.—We consider the world as equally entitled to exclaim against these editors who are undermining the *paper system, without informing us how we shall proceed in its absence. It is scarcely credible, that these people seriously believe that we have specie enough for the purpose of doing the business of the country. We will not allow of any retrospection. We cannot allow the validity of an argument that goes to censure the present business the world is engaged in, nor the manner by which it has arrived at the present crisis. The fact is, we have arrived at the crisis, and the only question is now, how we are to regulate matters for the existing state of things. If gentlemen, when they attack banking, mean that the bank of the United States is to supply us with the whole circulating medium, we can easily undeceive them, by informing them that this institution has acknowledged her inability to do this. In the western country she has established five branches, and yet not one of their notes have ever yet got into circulation. And what is the reason of this, it may be asked? The answer is ready and plain; they have not issued as much as suffices to make remittances for merchandize, and the mother bank honestly declares, that she dare not go farther. Where then are we to procure a medium from?

In the western parts of Pennsylvania, we have scarcely as much specie, of any size, as would be sufficient for the small change of the country, if it were properly cut up. How would we pay our debts? The position is preposterous. The amount of issues of the bank of the United States has been one of the causes, already, of reducing its stock 33 per cent—this now can only be called at par.

The fact is, banks must be supported, and the legislatures, if they act wisely, will support them. The drain of specie to the East-Indies and to Europe, is the cause of most of our embarrassments.—The true policy is, to throw as many obstacles in the way of this drain as possible, and we know of no mode so effectual as that of supporting a certain number of efficient banks at limited distances from each other. We are perfectly aware that in a multiplicity of banks there are many evils; but they are such as will always correct themselves. We have no great love for banks in the abstract; indeed, these are monsters, that we have no very clear conception of. By banks we distinctly mean the great mass of population who are undoubtedly all concerned, more or less, in banks. In England we hear of no such complaints, and the banking system is carried as far there as here. We now and then hear murmurs there about a paper currency, but these murmurs never assume the same features they do with us. And why? simply because they do not labour under the same kind of embarrassment we do, the balance of trade not being against them.—We know of no policy then so correct as that of diminishing the balance against us. Congress we expect will do much on this score; the state legislatures have much in their power. We ought to embarrass the India trade, to its destruction if possible. Every facility of procuring specie ought to be removed. We should have nothing left then to wrestle with but European manufactures, and by encreasing the difficulty of paying and remitting to Europe, we will insensibly be driven in the practice of depending on our own resources.

An able writer,† has said, "that the number of people in this world, who think for themselves, is very small." It is very much owing to this principle that the cry against banks, has become so popular. We feel a general embarrassment, and we see in many newspapers, banks given as the cause. The subject being in itself a difficult one to investigate, and a consideration of it necessarily involving much profound political research, the newspaper statements, to save the trouble of reflection, are taken as axioms.—For our own part, we are by no means satisfied with their reasoning. Let our country be placed in a situation where she is not the purchaser of every article we consume, and banks will afford no cause of complaint. But the destruction of these institutions will certainly not produce an increase of specie, although it may create a facility to the India merchant, in procuring specie for exportation. If the enemies of banks could have their prayers granted by having specie suddenly made the exclusive medium of circulation, God help the western country.—The amount of the present exports from it, and the whole of its specie would hardly pay 25 per cent of its debt. The eastern merchants would consequently suffer, and we should have plenty of dapper agents from Liverpool, Birmingham, Manchester and Leeds, taking possession of the finest property in our cities for their masters claims.

* Certainly at the expense of a great deal of paper.

† Sheridan.

Extracts from English papers received at New York.

The work people of Manchester still held out for higher wages—and the unremitting vigilance of the magistracy was necessary to keep them in check. In some instances the military was called out, and several persons had been shot.

The mechanics at Leeds and Yorkshire were all at work, and orders for goods were greater than ever before known.

Mr. Baring, the London Broker, had left Paris for Aix-la-Chapelle.

Two valuable Portuguese ships insured at Lloyd's have been captured by insurgent privateers. The London papers urge the necessity of decisive measures against the privateers of Artigas.

The British ship of war Griffon, which left St. Helena on the 2d of August, and which has arrived at Portsmouth, brings the information that the squadron on that station was extremely sickly, and that several of the ships had buried a large portion of their crews, from dysenteries and liver complaints. The colony also was very sickly, from the prevalence of the same diseases, which are peculiarly fatal. The Governor, Sir Hudson Lowe had an alarming attack of bowel complaint in the beginning of July, from which he had recovered. Captain Bunn, of the Honorable Company's store-ship Mangles, died on the 29th July, and captain Paisley, of his Majesty's ship Redpole, on the 17th July, of the prevailing dysentery. Bonaparte had not been seen out of doors for several months, and continued very ill with a liver complaint. The Griffon buried Mr. Dunning, of the Conqueror, a passenger, and five men, on her voyage home, all of whom died of fever and dysentery. Mr. O'Meara, surgeon to Bonaparte, arrived in the Griffon."

NEWS FROM THE POLAR EXPEDITION.

At length the official despatches from the ships employed on the Discovery of the North-west passage have been received, and we understand are most satisfactory. They are dated July 28, at which time the Isabella and the Alexander were in lat. 75 deg. 30 min. N. long. 80 deg 30 min. W. well over to the American coast, the weather serene and perfectly clear. The variation of the compass, by accurate observations repeatedly made on board both ships, was 89 deg. and the dip 84 deg. 30 min. which led them to conclude, that they were approaching to the magnetic pole. It had been perfectly calm; the sea was smooth as glass for the 3 or 4 days, and the current drifted them to the South-eastward, which raised their hopes of an open passage round the point of America, from which quarter it appeared to proceed. All the way up the middle of Davis's Straits they skirted an unbroken field of ice on left, but as they proceeded it became thinner and apparently rotten, and they were sanguine that the moment the breeze sprung up, the ice to the westward would open to them a passage, and allow them to reach the northern shores of America. The utmost harmony prevailed among the officers and every part of the ship's company, and all were in perfect health. Such is the substance of the accounts which we have been able to learn. There are abundance of private letters to the friends and relations of those who have embarked in this most important & interesting enterprise. The following is an extract of one:

From his Majesty's ship Isabella, at Sea,
Lat. 75 25, Long. 60 7, variation 88 48.—July 25.

Dear D——, This is our last opportunity this year, therefore I could not let it pass without writing, although nothing has passed since my last. We are now to the northward of all the ships that are fishing; we see some a long way astern, the boat with despatches is going immediately to one of them; they have followed a great way this year, and have been very kind in giving us every assistance when in the ice: I sincerely wish them all safe back; they have a long way to go through the ice. The coast begins to look more and more miserable: as we get north, it has more the appearance of a chain of ice mountains than land; the sea is one solid field of ice as far as the eye can reach. When the wind blows from the north, we find narrow passages in it, and through them we pass on: sometimes the whole of our men are on the ice, dragging the ship along the edge of the flaws. From the great variation, we cannot be a great way from the Magnetic pole; you will see the variation by our last observation on the head of the letter.

P. S. I cannot yet say any thing about the success of our voyage; the season I think is favorable. Young R—— and I had a long hunt after a large bear, the other day, but he got away from us. I shall have some long stories to tell you when I see you next.

SOUTH AMERICA.

A letter from St. Jago de Chili, dated July 9th, received per America, details the following:—A number of vessels arrived lately at Coquimbo, whose names, except the Macedonian of Boston, I have not yet learned. A number of vessels have also arrived here, principally British, with cargoes from 3 to $500,000 each, & a Packet, from Boston, with a cargo of $500,000. The anticipated fall of Lima has ruined this market.—The amount of property brought here within the last twelve months is calculated at near ten millions of dollars.

The Patriots since their last success, have passed their time in feasting and rejoicing; the Royalists are still in possession of Saldivia, the port of Talcuanha and Conception, but the Patriots are going against them in September, and under no apprehension but they will be easily conquered, and indeed Lima is shaking, as they intend to march against it as soon as they drive them entirely from this province. The Vice Roy is said to have sued for a truce of five years, which was very wisely declined. The Spanish messenger came in the United States' sloop Ontario, and returned in her to Lima. The Ontario sailed thence 14th June for the N. W. coast. Judge Prevost is not gone in her, but is now in this capital.

They are suffering very much at Lima for wheat, beef, &c which they formerly in drew great abundance from this province. If the supply continues to be cut off as rigorously as commenced, a revolution may be strongly expected.—There are 33 vessels in Valparaise, among them the British sloop of war Blossom, capt. Hickey; the British frigate Andromache sailed a few days since for Lima; there is no Spanish blockading squadron off, since the drubbing the Esmeraldo got.

The ship Beaver and brig Canton, of New-York, are reported to have been condemned in Conception.

P. S. After the Ontario sailed, Judge Prevost remained here, but it now appears that he is going to the N. W. coast in the British sloop of war Blossom, capt. Hickey. Capt. H. goes on to renounce all claim to the settlement at Columbia river in the name of the British government, and the American Commissioner goes there in the British sloop of war to settle matters. Judge Bland who takes passage in the vessel that takes this, will be able to give a better history of that business.—Balt. Tel.

THE SENECA INDIANS.

Who that reflects on the events of two centuries past regarding this country, and brings to his mind what, at the commencement of that period, was the situation of its original inhabitants, and compares it with the situation in which they now are, can fail to feel ardently desirious that in their present weak, degraded, and rapidly declining condition, they should be treated by white men with justice and humanity? Who that reads their simple, natural, impassioned, and pathetick eloquence, can avoid the impressions which it is so well calculated to make upon the mind. We may search the histories of many legitative assemblies, in more enlightened and civilized countries, and not find more interesting and impressive language than the following:—

"FATHER—We declare to you, we desire you to publish to all our white brothers, that it is our fixed and determined purpose to live and die in our present state. It is sealed to us by the bones of our fathers.—They obtained it by their blood. Our bones shall lie beside theirs. It is the herritage of the Almighty. He gave it us. He it is must take it from us.

"We mean no threat by this. We know we are in the hands of our white brothers, they can destroy us with ease. But they need not think to persuade us to part with our land. As freemen, we claim the right to choose between being killed outright, or a lingering execution, by being driven a thousand miles into the wilderness."

New York Daily Advertiser.

The sum of 27,611 dollars from 333 persons, has been deposited in the "Saving Bank" in Boston, during the last quarter.—Withdrawn during the same period 5921 dollars 40 cents. The institution for saving in the town of Salem, received from the 15th of April to the 14th of October $26,754 from 184 persons.—Wash. City Gaz.

It is calculated that the exports from New-Orleans, for the present year, will amount to twenty millions of dollars.

Those of Savannah, for the year ending on the first of October, amounted to upwards of fourteen millions of dollars.

We understand that the hon. C. A. Rodney, one of the South American commissioners has completed his report and handed it to the President of the United States; and are happy to learn that he is unequivocally in favovr of a recognition of the independent provinces on the La Plata. We wish we could say as much for Mr. Graham, who, we hear, entertains a different opinion. A diplomatick Mission to Rio Janeiro is now spoken of for the latter gentleman. The other commissioner, Judge Bland, is expected here in a day or two, having arrived in Baltimore, to furnish his statement to the President.—Wash. City Gaz.

FROM THE WEST INDIES.

NEWBURYPORT, Oct. 30.

It was stated a few days since, (as we believe first in a Philadelphia paper,) that Gen. Boyer, President of the Haytian Republick, had met the invading army of King Christophe in the field; and in a desperate conflict the latter left 4000 men on the field. We are now enabled to pronounce the report of a sheer fabrication, wholly destitute of truth, in the most remote degree. Captain Mitchell, arrived here on Monday evening, 15 days from Cape Henry, informs that the two rival Chiefs, so far from being engaged in hostilities, were each improving his respective dominions, Christophe was busily engaged, with his subjects and soldiers, in reparing the Citadel at Sans Souci, lately destroyed by lightning—while Boyer was fortifying himself in the affections of his people, by ameliorating conditions, and making improvements in agriculture and domestick arts.

CHICKASAW TREATY.

By yesterday's Southern mail, we received the following highly interesting and pleasing intelligence:

TREATY GROUND,
October 19, 1818.

To the Editors of the Whig.

We have just closed a treaty with the Chickasaw Indians, for all their claim in the states of Tennessee and Kentucky, cantaining about seven millions of acres, of the best lands in the western country, and washed by the Tennessee, Ohio and Mississippi rivers, for at least three hundred and fifty miles; for an annuity of twenty thousand dollars for fifteen years.

I am respectfully,
your obedient servant,
ANDREW JACKSON.

Hydrophobia among the Foxes.

I have seen several gentlemen from the Northern Neck, who state that the Hydrophobia exists at present to the most alarming degree among the Foxes. In the county of Northumberland upwards of forty persons have been bitten who have been sent to the stone. A most remarkable circumstance attends the malady, which is that the afflicted animal in place of avoiding the human species immediately makes towards them, & even enters houses in the middle of the day.—We have seen one gentlemen who states that a Fox entered a house yard in his presence, Notwithstanding there were several dogs; and that the dogs in place of attacking the animal, immediately retired, exhibiting great signs of fear. On another occasion a Fox made towards a boy who was walking along the road.—The latter to avoid him, leaped into a waggon which was passing, but the Fox pursued and bit him in several places.—Much injury has likewise been done to the cattle; and we are informed that the greatest uncasiness exists among the inhabitants; on account of this singular and extraordinary malady.

By order of the Commissioners,

JAMES M. RIDDLE, Cl

PITTSBURGH.

Tuesday Morning, Nov. 17

We hear of complaints of low water, from almost every part of the union. We can most sincerely sympathise on this subject with our fellow citizens, for we believe no place is so much affected by it as Pennsylvania, but more particularly Philadelphia and Pittsburgh. On Saturday last we counted thirty large keel boats, besides flat-bottoms, loaded with goods, anchored in the Monongahela, or lying along the shore. The completion of our elegant Bridge, which has been permitted by the season, may offer some compensation to Pittsburgh, but our hearts ache for the western merchants. Most of these have gone on, and are waiting in torturing anxiety for the arrival of their merchandize. We have been informed that but two or three of the Lexington merchants have been supplied with fall goods. This is a circumstance much to be deplored, for although we consider the extreme to which the mercantile-mania has been carried during the late six or seven years, as very detrimental to the country, yet we should like to have the evil corrected by degrees, and not by the sudden ruin of so many of our citizens, who might, by gradually changing their pursuits, become most useful members, in some other walk of life. There is a class of society, however, who are suffering by this uncommon season, which we pity infinitely more than the merchants; this class consists of the proprietors of the large fleet of keels and barges that run between Pittsburgh and the different places to the south west of us. This is a most useful body of people, who at great risk, with uncommon perseverance, have established a mode of transporting property, not surpassed in the world for despatch, safety, and convenience. Many of these persons are now at an expense of from fifteen to thirty-five dollars a day. They are obliged to keep their hands under pay, for fear they may leave them, and they must be ready at a moment's warning to float off, with the first "favourable tide."

But how does this operate so particularly against Pennsylvania, some of our eastern brethren might ask? If a Philadelphian could only hear, (and we believe some of them* lately have) the murmurs and menaces from Tennessee, Kentucky and Ohio, which have lately met our ears, he would think we had some cause to fear; for although, at present, they may be viewed as impotent, they may yet excite speculations, and stimulate exertions that a few years may ripen into means for our destruction. Baltimore already begins to talk largely about canals from Pennsylvania, and we may rest assured, that the honourable Henry Clay will not let the Cumberland road die, since we believe he stands pledged to carry it through Kentucky to St. Louis. Circumstances have occurred to leave our state no excuse for lethargy; the unfortunate dilemma to which we are reduced, has occurred just as our legislators are about meeting; they will concentrate at Harrisburgh in a few days, all the fears, hopes and wishes of Pennsylvania. It is devoutly to be wished that they will not trifle with our interests on the present occasion. Philadelphia must "rise in her might;" every thing is expected from her representation, and her individual exertions must not sleep in the meantime. We are bold to say that our district will go hand in hand with her. Our means cannot be compared with hers, but our members can "a tale unfold," that will convince the eastern section of our state, that its true interests have hitherto been much neglected. The fact is no longer to be concealed, that a little more capital in Baltimore and Alexandria, and the establishment of half a dozen commission houses of respectability in Wheeling, are all that is wanting to shake the prosperity of Philadelphia to its very centre.—Pittsburgh would in that case be much injured, but she has other resources, that she can never be deprived of. The west must depend upon her for supplies that will ensure her ultimate success; every year will encrease the extent of this dependence. But nevertheless a privation of the carrying trade, we acknowledge, would be a dreadful blow for us, at this period, and ought to be struggled against with all our powers. We trust therefore that our representatives will commence the important part of their business, early in the session, and not trifle away those moments, which have become so precious.

* We understand that a very intelligent gentleman from Philadelphia, lately passed through this place from the west on his way home, fully impressed with the necessity of energetic measures as to our turnpike, &c.

We have understood (for we have not the benefit of experience on this subject) that it is an established rule amongst editors, to give credit for all extracts of original matter, which may be taken from each others papers. We think this courtesy an honourable one, and one which ought to be observed. Every editor feels the propriety of this rule. Under this impression we think we have cause of complaint against several of our brethren in different parts of the Union; our "Olio" has been extracted into a great variety of papers, without allowing us any thing for our trouble. A Journal in Massachusetts a few days ago begins a paragraph thus "a paper published in Pittsburgh says," and then goes on with half a column of our own matter without even the compliment of inverted commas; now we humbly presume that the name of our paper must have caught the gentleman's eye, when he was actually copying from our columns, word for word, and if so, it would have saved trouble to have popped in our unassuming title. Our poetical friend "Sidney" has had several of his communications taken from our corner, and inserted as original in a Baltimore paper. A brother editor in our own city took a liberty the other day with a piece called "Conversation Comparisons" upon which we prided ourselves not a little; this was an oversight we are satisfied, because this gentleman possesses the most correct notions on every subject and would not knowingly err even about trifles. But we must inform a certain paper in Carlisle, that we insist upon a strict observance of the laws editorial, and we require credit for every original article, of prose or poetry even if it be only a parody.

We some time ago mentioned the discovery of the author of the Letters of Junius, as one of the greatest desiderata. Our mind is perfectly satisfied on that subject now; we believe the writer of those Letters to be Sir Philip Francis, a gentleman of the first rate talents, and now living. We never doubted that the discovery would be made, one day or other, without some very unexpected accident should suddenly cut off the real author. A man may perform the most godlike acts of benevolence in secret, without wishing to blazon them to the public; he may be daily engaged in doing deeds of charity anonymously, without desiring to receive the reward of virtue in this world. But we believe that individual never breathed who could deny his memory the reputation which must attach to him, who could compose those Letters. For this reason we conceived that the confession would be made be made, before death, if the secret should not be discoversd in some other way. Mr. Taylor we think has discovered this secret. His "Junius Identified" is now before the public, and to our mind his reasoning and facts are convincing. Messrs. Patterson and Lambdin have the work, and we recommend a perusal of it to all those who may feel as we did.

The Boston Exchange Coffee-House, was destroyed by fire, on the evening of the 3d inst. This superb structure, was 7 stories high, contained upwards of 3.0 rooms, and cost originally near 500,000 dolls. It was the best establishment of the kind in the U. States, and thought to be surpassed by none in Europe. It destroyed in its fall and ruin, 4 contiguous four story brick houses, besides injuring a number of others. The printing offices of the four Boston papers, the Palladium, Daily Advertiser, Gazette and Centinel, were in its immediate vicinity, the houses occupied by them injured, and their printing materials much deranged by removal. No paper would be issued in Boston for two or three days. All the streets, lanes and alleys for a great distance from the Coffee House, were filled with torn and broken furniture. The property of a great many guests in the house was destroyed. The Hon. Henry Clay lost part of his baggage.

St. Louis, (Missouri) Oct. 9.

To Emigrants.—It sometimes happens that emigrants to this country, unacquainted with the little inducement offered to an increase of merchants, invest their capital in goods, and bring them on to this place. This we conceive to be an error—the same amount of money laid out in land, would produce a three fold increase. The city is sufficiently stored with goods, and an accession of merchandize will by no means be justified by the situation of the country. The facilities offered to merchants we do not conceive to be much greater than in the states, and sonsequently it is by no means an eligible object of selection.

Land of the first quality can be bough in this territory at a very low price, and its increase in value, will be more than commensurate with the accession of population. This is the most advantageous time to purchase, for in a few years it will be more than double in value. Notwithstanding the assertions of interested malice we are of of opinion that greater facilities are offered to all classes of society for the accumulation of fortune, by the purchase of land in this territory, than in any other part of the U. States. Land here sells at a reasonable price—it has not acquired a factitious value by the multiplication of banks, which by wearing the semblance of blessings have so wonderfully multiplied in the states, and been the greatest bane of the country.

PROVIDENCE, (R. I.) Oct. 27.

We have been politely favoured with the following extract of a letter, dated Rio Janeiro, September 7, 1818.

"There are so many hollidays in this country that it takes almost a month to load one vessel. Yesterday I saw the King, Queen, and all the Royal family, to whom I was obliged to make my best bow. The King is a superstitious old granny.—He has had, for many years, a sore leg; and on the 5th, he, with his household, assembled in one of the largest and most grand monasteries, and with prayers for the restoration of his health, there presented to Saint Somebody a silver leg; and it is an absolute fact, that this same king John VI. openly declared, that "immediately after the ceremony was performed, his leg felt better." The whole of the population were present.

"Assassinations are frequent here.—A mulatto, who had stabbed two men in one day, and had attempted to stab another, a few days since, was whipped in different parts of the town. His sentence was, "to be whipped to death."—He received 800 lashes that day, and is not yet dead, although the stripes were laid on by a stout negro, with all his might. This same negro has been a murderer himself, and was sentenced, by way of punishment, to be the public executioner; and that whenever he failed in a rigorous discharge of his duty, he was to occupy the place of the culprit, and receive HIS punishment likewise."

Extract of a letter from Nashville, Ten. dated Oct. 21st. to a gentleman in this town.

"We have no news here, except a report brought by the Mail carrier last evening from the South, that a party of the disaffected Creek Indians, had attacked our commissioners at Chickasaw Old town; but I understand there was no lives lost. The Indians succeeded in taking some plunder, but were pursued by a party of 200 whites and friendly Indians, who retook it.—I did not see the Mail carrier myself, and therefore do not know what confidence to place in the report: if it be true, I have no doubt that Jackson (who is one of the Commissioners) will severely chastise them for their presumption."

Buffalo, (Niagara) Oct. 27.

On Wednesday last. a severe gale was experienced on Lake Erie, a thing not uncommon at this season. The scrs. Eagle, Com. Perry, and two others, were driven ashore near the mouth of Buffalo Creek. The Eagle lost her rudder. The others sustained very little injury.

A new wharf building at Fort Erie, by Messrs. Smith and Hamilton, of Queenston, was considerably injured, in consequence of its unfinished state.

EARLY SNOW.

A letter from a correspondent at Auburn, in this State, dated the 20th of Oct, informs us, that, on the 22d there was a fall of snow in Onondaga and Madison Counties, which covered the ground about six inches deep. The weather, it is also stated, was extremely cold, and the roads almost impassable with wheels.

An Irish paper of Aug. 26, gives an account of the cruel and rascally treatment of an American captain (Webb) in the port of Belfast. It appears, that he was charged with having put a man ashore, who had visited his vessel, in a place where his life was imminently in danger, from the flowing of the tide, which cut off his communication with the main land. The affidavits of several respectable persons, however proved that this fellow had been on board captain Webb's vessel, and had got drunk; but that captain W. sent him ashore, and took the precaution to have him taken to a safe and dry place—instead of depositing him in the mud as he affirmed, and as he deserved. In consequence of the charge as above stated, capt. W. was dragged to prison, without ceremony and in the most unfeeling manner. Bail, was however, soon obtained, the captain liberated, tried and acquitted. The Irish editor remark that a general burst of indignation was excited on the occasion—a feeling which reflects equal honour on the American name and on the proverbial benevolence and hospitality of Irishmen.

FIFTY YEARS AGO.

A gentleman of the city has favored the editors of the N. York Gazette with The Leed's Mercury, of Jan. 3. 1769. Among other articles, it contains the following.

"Naples, Dec. 1—Sixteen thousand persons have died here of the small pox, but the fury of that distemper begins to abate."

"Boston, Nov. 17, 1768.—On Tuesday, a complaint was lodged before Richard Dana, and John Ruddock, Esqrs. justices, against one of H. M. captains charging him with advising a number of slaves to cut their masters' throats. The captain was ordered to give bond to answer at the next assize.

"Several of the transports with the 64th regiment have arrived. The Hussar frigate is still out." [The remains of the Hussar now lie on the bottom near Hell Gate.]

"Charleston, S. C. Nov. 15, 1768—Since the beginning of this month, several quantities of excellent tobacco made in the settlements, have been brought to this market, and might be made an article of export." [How the times have improved!]

"The quantity of new rice exported to this day, in eight different vessels, is 1660 bbls. The price is still 70s."

"London, Dec. 29—The ladies of distinction at the west end of the town, have determined to bestow on the poor all their winnings at cards during the Holidays."

"Next term the attorneys who are properly admitted; are to appear in their gowns, so that they may be distinguished from petty foggers, who attempt to practice without real authority.

"We learn from Boston, that an unfortunate dispute has occurred between the military and magistracy of that town and that two of the Revenue officers had thrown up their commissions.

"Yesterday Mr. Wilkes received the Sacrament in the Chapel of the King's Bench Prison, in order to qualify him for the post he is soliciting."

From the New York Columbian.

Extract from the commencement of the life of James Hamilton, who is to be executed to-morrow at Albany, for the murder of Major Benjamin Birdsall, in July last.

"When a malefactor is about to expiate with his life, the offences he has committed against that society which has doomed him to an ignominious death, it is due to them and to himself, ingenuously and frankly to give a brief history of his life, as well to evince his sincere penitence and contrition, as to furnish an awful lesson for those who are passing the giddy round of dissipation, are about to plunge into the dreadful abyss of wretchedness and sin. With these impressions I approach the subject, and have only to add, that for the truth of this memoir, I pledge myself as in the presence of the ever-living and the all-searching God.

My birth, like my death, was the combined effect of infamy and sin. I was the illegitimate offspring of a mother whom I never knew, and of a father of whom I am equally ignorant (the man to whom I once supposed I could give that appellation having disowned me)—Without the consolation, therefore, of calling one single individual on earth by the endearing title of father, mother, brother or sister, I was brought into existence, and now like a wretched outcast, am to be hurled out of it, by the arm of offended justice. The place of my nativity was in the city of New York, and my birth occurred the 2d of May 1791."

220 Acres

OF THE FIRST RATE LAND, FOR SALE.

THE subscriber having determined to sell his FARM, consisting of 220 acres of first rate land, situate in the fork of Chartier's creek, and bounded by both branches thereof, will dispose of the same at public sale, on Thursday the 24th day of December next, at the premises, (unless sooner sold.) This farm is part of the estate well known by the name of MORGANZA. The stage road from Pittsburgh to Washington, Wheeling &c. passes through it, and the Turnpike about being formed between the two former places to connect the State turnpike with the great National road, will be located through or near it. The soil is so productive that it always commands in rent, one half, instead of one third of the corn raised. About 60 acres are in cultivation, and the under-wood being light, the improvement can be extended at pleasure, with ease and little expence. The timber is excellent and abundant—sugar orchards extensive and productive—the springs, numerous and fine and never failing—stone coal of superior quality, is believed to be in sufficient quantity to supply the neighbouring country. Two grist and two saw mills are within three fourths of a mile of this tract. It is little more than 3 miles from Cannonsburgh, in which there is a College of reputation. This farm, having the eminent advantages of rich soil, good water, fine timber and inviting situation, in the bosom of a healthy and very populous country, only 9 miles from Washington, the county seat, and 15 from the city of Pittsburgh, is without doubt deserving of the attention of persons desirous to purchase. Terms will be made known at the time and place of sale

Application by letter (post paid) directed to the undersigned at Washington, Washington county, Pa. will be promptly attended to without delay.

Addressed to M —— M. and intended to be set to music for the harp.

Tho' love, that wild and frolic boy,
Has charm'd my cherish'd peace away
Yet all his shafts were wing'd with joy,
And tipped with promis'd rapture's ray.
And now with fairy visions bright,
And waking dreams of soft delight,
He cheers the lonely hours of night,
And speeds the ling'ring flight of day.

When with sad doubt and rising sigh
My sinking spirits feel opprest,
Her smiling look of light is nigh,
And sighs and doubts are lulled to rest.
Balm of toil, and bliss of leisure,
Soul of joy's delicious measure!
Oh! what can yield a glow of pleasure,
Like that which warms the lover's breast!

When on my couch, her gentle hand,
Seems strewing myrtles o'er my pillow,
And fancy hears her, soft and bland,
As murm'rings of the distant billow.
With breath like vilet scented gale,
When summer wafts it o'er the vale,
With heart like pity's tender tale,
Drawn by love's pencil, warm and mellow.

Each sighing breeze that murmurs by,
Reminds me of her harps sweet strain,
Ah, dear and witching minstrelsy,
When shall I hear your tones again;
Speed ling'ring moments, speed your flight
Restore me to her angel sight
And basking on love's roseate light
Twine closer round my heart his silken chain

The most VALUABLE PROPERTY on the West side of the Mountains offered

FOR SALE.

Plumpsock Iron Works.

WITH about 350 acres of land belonging thereto, will be offered for sale by public vendue, if not previously sold at private sale, on Tuesday, the 18th day of August next, at the Court House, in the the borough of Uniontown. This establishment consists of a forge, rolling mill, grist and saw mills. Also, a large brick dwelling house, furnished in a handsome style, with many other dwellings for the accommodation of workmen, and extensive stabling. It is situate in Fayette county, state of Pennsylvania, in the midst of a highly cultivated country on the state road, nine miles east of Brownsville, on the Monongahela river, and the like distance of Connellsville on the Youghiogheny river, five miles northwest of Uniontown, and thirty nine from the city of Pittsburgh. Bar iron is made in this forge by rolling instead of hammering, of a superior quality. Stone coal is the only fuel used in making it, an inexhaustible pit of which is within one hundred yards of the forge. Three men with a horse and cart are sufficient to raise, coke and haul to the forge all the coal necessary for keeping the works in full operation. They are in good order, the machinery almost new. This property is perhaps the most valuable of its kind in the United States, and by suitable attention, it is believed, may be made the most profitable in its operations.

There will be sold also, at the same time and place, the following

HOUSES AND LOTS '

situate in the borough of Union, to wit:

1. The corner house and lot of ground situate on the north side of Elbow street, immediately east of the Court House, No. 20, being the most eligible as well as the most valuable lot of ground in town.

2. That large House and lot of ground No. 3, and part of the adjoining lot, on the west or the north side of Elbow street, in the occupancy of Cuthbert Wiggins as a tavern stand, fronting on said street about one hundred and thirteen feet.

A Most Valuable Estate,

FOR SALE.

THAT beautiful estate, commonly known by the name of MONTOURS' or LONG ISLAND, about five miles below Pittsburgh, in the Ohio river, containing in the whole 1,000 acres, is offered for sale. It is divided into three separate tracts, on each of which there are handsome improvements; the land is of the best quality, well timbered, and not subject to overflow. It is universally esteemed, both as to soil and situation, the finest property in the western country. The proprietors would prefer selling the whole in a body, but to suit purchasers, it may be divided into three tracts.

The terms may be known by applying to Major Isaac Craig on the premises, or to the subscriber, who is agent for the proprietors, at his office in Pittsburgh.

JAMES HALL,
Attorney at Law.

☞ The editors of the Lancaster Journal, Berks and Schuylkill Journal, and Village Record, will insert the above 3 times, and forward their accounts to the office of the Pittsburgh Gazette for payment.

To Tanners Distillers, & Farmers.

THE subscriber assignee of JARED OLD'S PATENT IRON MILL for Grinding Bark, Corn and Cobb, &c. for the States of Ohio, Kentucky and Tennessee, informs the public that they are made and kept for sale by Mr. George Sutton who is sole agent in Pittsburgh to sell Mills in those states, their utility in grinding bark is well known and established to be the best in use. To Distillers they answer a valuable purpose to shell corn and grind the cobb, and by distilling the cobb it is found to make a saving of about one fifth of this method.—To Farmers, to grind feed for cattle, the mill will crack nearly all the corn and grind the cobb quite fine—There are now a considerable number of those mills in use for that purpose, and are highly approved of—Distillers and Farmers in the above states are solicited to make trial of them.—I will warrant them to answer the purpose as described.

Orders for mills will be attended to by Mr. George Sutton, where they can only be had in Pittsburgh, and will be by him forwarded.

For the information of the public I give this NOTICE.

That all mills, sold in the above states by agent of Luther Gale, is an infringement on my right, nor has there any of Gales's mills been sold or used in the western country for grinding bark to my knowledge. Jared Olds' improvement consists of an Iron hopper cast solid on the cylinper or tube and cogs or sharp pointed teeth placed in rows on the inside of the mill. I therefore forbid all persons from making, using or selling mills of the above description in Ohio, Kentucky nd Tennessee, without authority from myseli r Alvin Bates and our agents, as all persons ound violating said patent, may rest assured that sooner or later they will pay us for our right, if there is law and justice to recover it

10 miles from Pittsburgh, on the Monongahela river, containing 205 acres of land—of which there is about 140 acres of first rate river and creek bottom, with an excellent stream of water, on which is erected a new Saw-Mill: it is deemed unnecessary to say any thing in praise of this property as it is well known to be one of the handsomest Farms in Allegheny county; and as it is presumed that persons wishing to purchase will take a minute survey of this property, in every respect worthy the attention of monied men. No objection would be made to take in part pay, good property in Pittsburgh, Philadelphia or Baltimore, at a reasonable valuation.
